YOUTH IS SHOT, POLICE BAFLED

Hallowe'en Masquerader Is Believed Assailant

THREE SHOTS FIRED

Spotlight Thrown on Porch Where He Sat

Police yesterday afternoon were baffled by a mysterious shooting in the 100 block of Ninth street Wednesday night in which a man, said by police to be J. E. C. Trahan, living in that vicinity was shot as he sat on a young lady's front porch. At first police working on the case said they believed jealousy to be the motive of the shooting of Trahan, on the theory, they said, that another suitor for the hand of his girl companion was responsible for the assault.

Bullet Grazes Head.

According to the report filed with the authorities, Trahan and his girl companion were sitting on the front porch watching the parade of Hallowe'en celebrators.

A car is said to have passed by the house, throwing a spotlight on the two young people sitting on the front steps. Later a man, thought to have been masqueraded as a negro, walked up to the pair and snapped a pistol in Trahan's face. The missile went deep into his mark, severely grazing Trahan's head. Two more shots in quick succession followed, but neither took effect.

When questioned neither the girl nor the man could account for the mysterious attack.

MAN STABBED AT EL VISTA

Wilson Higgenbottom Reported Seriously Hurt

What is claimed to be the climax of a long standing quarrel dating back to July 3, came last night at a dance hall a short distance out on the El Vista road, where Wilson Higgenbottom was stabbed in the ribs. He was taken to police station where police say he reported the names of his assailants.

Stabbed "attendant" called in to attend the wounded man pronounced the wound not a serious one.

Shortly after the report to headquarters a number of officers headed by Constable Baker were rushed to the dance hall where they placed a man under arrest, bringing him to the city jail.

Headquarters Higgenbottom identified him as the one who wielded the knife.

It was said at headquarters last night by Higgenbottom that the fracas last night was a climax to a cutting affair which took place last July in a downtown restaurant. Ill feeling between the two men since that time is thought to have been the cause of last night's trouble.

No charge had been lodged against the alleged assailant last night.

GRAND JURORS INDICT JUSTICE

Houston Officer Accused of Extortion

BITTERLY FLAYED

Claim Tourists Forced to Pay Illegal Fines

By United Press.

HOUSTON, Nov. 3.—Three indictments charging extortion in connection with the assessing of overcharges on fines were returned against Justice of the Peace W. N. Williams by the Harris county grand jury here late today.

The indictments were returned, the bills said as a result of unlawful charges for commitments and witnesses fees on plea of guilty cases made in Williams' court.

Prosecutor Seized.

The indictments are the outgrowth of an extended investigation into irregularities in the justice's office, the charges are felony and carry with them penalties of from two to five years.

The jurors seized District Attorney John D. Smith and the "fee grabbing" system which they declared has caused "shocking conditions" throughout the county.

"We are impelled by a sense of duty to say," the report read "that Justice Smith, the district attorney, posing as a guardian of the public morals, affected to believe that grand jurors should devote their time to liquor cases, to the exclusion of all others which he himself thinks are violations of the law which he has repeatedly declared to be prevailing."

"Shocking Conditions."

"We have found that in some precincts most shocking conditions prevail. Travelers through that locality have been brought to brutal and humiliating treatment. Scores of complaints have been brought to us that automobilists have been held up with firearms, charged with offenses which did not commit, and given the alternative of spending the night in jail or paying sums of money from $15 to $20."

"We have found that justices of the peace permit such bonds to be taken and when the defendant fails to appear for trial his bond is forfeited, a plea of guilty entered, and the money deposited as a cash bond divided among the officers of the court."

Numerous instances of "shocking brutal treatment of prisoners" by arresting officers have been found, the jurors said.

Trades and Labor Council Pledge $2,500 to Red Cross

All Organizations in Budget Campaign Pledge 100 Per Cent Effort to Task of Reaching $13,500 Goal

Greeting the Red Cross 1932 budget campaign with enthusiasm and spirit, every organization approached with a proposition to raise a quota of the chapter's $13,500 budget has pledged itself 100 per cent to the task.

Among the first to respond with a unanimous "aye" to the appeal that they assume the responsibility for $2,500 of the funds was the Trades and Labor council, Rev. J. A. Frampton, director of the campaign, said Saturday.

So far, Rev. Frampton has personally carried the Red Cross budget campaign plans to each organization for which a quota of the $13,500 budget has been drawn up, and he, or some other member of his staff of campaign directors will get around to every group and organization in the city until all have been approached, according to plans recently adopted for waging the campaign.

"Red Cross workers themselves were the first to put over the top with their quota, the employees of the chapter raising $100," Rev. Frampton (Turn to Page 7, Column 2.)

RANGERS REFUSED IN FLOGGING PROBE

DALLAS, Nov. 3.—Despite intensive investigation by city and county authorities the identity of the flogging band which whipped Joe Weesbrook near here Thursday night was a matter of a mystery tonight as it was two days ago. No arrests have been made as yet, police said.

County authorities today declined the offer of Governor Neff to send rangers to enter the investigation.

Can You Help This Tiny Babe Who May Go Lame?

THAT old discarded "walker" used by your sturdy little boy or girl before they learned to walk alone may be the means of saving a Port Arthur babe, 17 months old, from being a cripple for life.

Tiny limbs of the child somehow haven't developed as they should, attending physicians said. With a walker, to exercise in, the infant in all probability would develop strength to enable him to run about and play like other children do, they said. Otherwise, the life long handicap of a cripple may be his fate.

So Red Cross workers have taken up the quest for a walker for the babe, and are broadcasting an appeal that anyone in Port Arthur having one they can give away notify the Red Cross, but, Fifth and Dallas right away. It is imperative that the walker for the child be secured before Wednesday, and a car to the unit, phone 1214, will bring a Red Cross worker after the walker.

SHRINE CLUB TO PUT ON CIRCUS

Second Event Planned in Program of Philanthropy

Again the Port Arthur Shrine club promises to spread fun and frolic in Port Arthur when they open their second circus of the season November 10, officials announced Saturday.

A large percentage of the funds expected to be raised to their new circus will, as was done following the first Shrine Circus staged by the club in this city, be utilized in the club's philanthropic program, according to Shrine leaders here.

Because the second circus opening on the ninth is planned to be much larger than the last one, the "midway" will stretch from the ball park on Lake Shore drive almost to the high school building, and from the drive back to the canal bank, president A. B. Miles said.

The Morris and Castle shows have been engaged to put on the amusement features for the circus, and present indications are that the Shrine circus' second season will collapse their former event, members say.

The contractors are hauling the asphalt from Port Arthur to the section of the road nearing completion, enough of the material having been assembled at the Smith Brothers' plant here for the county work when the city work was underway, Hughes said. The asphalt topping is all laid on the end of the Port Neches main street near the Texas Company's plant.

MOB MEMBERS IN LYNCHING UNKNOWN TO DEATH WITH CLUB

PARLEY'S FATE HINGES ON TALK WITH HUGHES

Washington Receives Note Longly Note

JUSSERAND ARRIVES

By United Press.

PARIS, Nov. 3.—Premier Poincare has again strongly opposed any reduction of the German reparations debt and will not allow it to be discussed at the proposed expert inquiry unless the United States will discuss reduction of France's debt, it was said late today.

Mind Not Changed.

Following separate conferences with United States Ambassador Herrick and British Ambassador Lord Croke today the Quin D'Oorsary indicated the premier's mind was not changed.

Another statement of the French came was expected tomorrow when Poincare speaks at five ceremonies in towns that were in the fighting zone during the war.

It was announced that the visit of Ambassador Herrick was not purely one of courtesy, made by Herrick on his return to Paris, but well informed persons believed the conversation had dealt much of the time on the topic of the day—the reparations inquiry.

Hughes Gets Longly Note From Poincare

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—A longly note from Premier Poincare was received at the French embassy here today in reply to the objection of Secretary Hughes to any resumption of the scope of the proposed expert economic conference to examine Germany's capacity to pay reparations.

The receipt of the note from Poincare came almost simultaneously with the arrival from Europe of Jules J. Jusserand, the French ambassador to Washington. Jusserand may take the note to Hughes tonight, but it was believed rather probable that he would postpone going to the state department until Monday.

Homes in Baltimore.

Jusserand, immediately upon his arrival at the French embassy, was planning a thorough examination of all the official communications that have passed between Washington and Paris regarding the proposed reparations parley and made a study of the attitude of the press of the United States towards the plan with special reference to France's position to gauge American public opinion.

The late of the American program for an expert conference, to bring about a settlement of the reparations question, the key to the European crisis, today is believed largely to hang on the impending conference between Hughes and Jusserand, at which the French envoy will present Poincare's reply to the secretary.

Hope and anxiety were mixed at Washington and speculation as to the nature of the French reply, which took a long time to be decided at the embassy.

Officers in Booze Raids to Testify in U. S. Court

Officers who will figure in the trials of liquor violators in federal court convening November 19 at Beaumont will be summoned starting the first part of the week.

Local police officers who have been with this department, but resigned, will be back for the trials. It is the practice observed by federal police, they explained, to file federal charges in cases where the liquor seizure had been less than one quart. In seizures of more than one quart, the case is filed in the state courts. Most of the cases coming up before the federal court at its November term are for liquor violations.

AIRMEN HURT 3 Civilians in Critical Condition After Crash

By United Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 3.—Three civilian aviators were seriously injured late today when an airplane they were testing crashed at McFerry Field, Roosevelt boulevard. The men were rushed to Frankfurt hospital, where their condition was reported critical.

DOPE AND UPSET

Great Victory Big Surprise to Sport Followers

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Sitting tight and biding time in glory for a week, the great football team of the United States, the United States Football team, came to the aid of the United States Football team.

Of the widely scattered battle fields of the east, west and south, Yale, Cornell, Syracuse, Michigan, Notre Dame and Illinois came with heads high and records unblemished.

The size of the score, more than the victory itself, caused two tremendous surprises in the east when Yale ran from the Army, 21 to 10, and when Cornell overwhelmed Dartmouth, 22 to 7.

Cornell's rout of Dartmouth meant more to Cornell than a victory over the conqueror of Harvard and one of the strongest teams of the east.

Penn State, held to a tie last week by West Virginia, faded from the eastern picture when Syracuse beat them 10 to 0. Syracuse is still undefeated and up with the leaders.

Down the line, but a surprise, nevertheless, was Columbia's 9 to 6 victory over Middlebury, which held Harvard to a 6 to 6 tie game two weeks ago.

Lehigh furnished another result that was not expected, by beating Carnegie Tech, which won from Pittsburgh last week, 14 to 6.

Washington and Jefferson slipped down a peg when La Fayette sprung a touchdown in the final quarter and held them to a 6 to 6 tie.

Navy's 9 to 0 victory over Colgate was somewhat of a surprise.

Pittsburgh made one more in its string of successes, "wins," by defeating before Pennsylvania, 6 to 0.

Harvard looked none too well in battling Tufts to a 16 to 0 score, but the Princeton Tigers were impressive in winning from Swarthmore, 45 to 0.

Michigan won a 9 to 3 victory over Iowa and Illinois knocked Chicago out of the running, winning 7 to 0.

Notre Dame continued in high and picked off Purdue 34 to 7.

Matters complicated from the start were more tangled than ever in the south when Georgia Tech and Alabama and Vanderbilt and the Mississippi Aggies played to a scoreless tie.

Centre beat Kentucky, 10 to 0, and Georgia won from Auburn, 7 to 0.

The champion team game of the day was played when Missouri beat the Kansas Aggies 4 to 3.

Visiting Backfield

ekin was on the level 30-yard line. HOUTSON: Blakely failed to go through right end. Blakely passed to Hoover for a touchdown. The latter scoring 45 yards with the pigskin. Cumming made the good kick. Score: Houston, 21; Port Arthur, 0.

Blakely booted to the Port Arthur 20-yard line and Trow managed to return 10.

PORT ARTHUR: Morgan passed to Trow for 5 yards gain. Cumming intercepted Morgan's pass and ran 5 yards before he was dropped. HOUTSON: Blakely failed to complete a pass on the right wing. The ball was on the Yellow Jacket's 20-yard line.

Cumming attempted a drop kick, failed and the pigskin was Port Arthur's on her own 20-yard line. PORT ARTHUR: Morgan tried to pass to Hoover, but Houston players intercepted and broke it up. Morgan tried to pass to "Shrimp" Butterbe, but he didn't get his fingers on the pigskin. Butterbe was downed on his own 15-yard line on the next play.

Schlicher punted 25 yards. Blakely attempted another drop kick and failed. Again the ball was on Port Arthur's 20-yard line. PORT ARTHUR: Morgan tried the right end and lost 10 yards. Trow went in for Trow. Blakely intercepted at pass from Morgan and raced 10 yards before Port Arthur uniforms brought him down. HOUTSON: Blakely passed to Hoover for a touchdown. The whistle blew, but Cumming executed a perfect goal. Score: Houston, 28; Port Arthur, 0.

Gloom Bearers At Old Penny

Houston—Port Arthur. The biggest football upset of the early season was the defeat of the supposedly rejuvenated Pennsylvania eleven by Maryland.

This year Penn State started out on a new football footing, with a new coach in charge and a new system in vogue. Coach Young replaced Coach Heisman and expectations ran high.

In Tex Hinner, captain, Penn State was said to have one of the finest in sectional leaders in the east.

Marchand was not backed on as a particularly formidable foe. The southerners, however, proved to be extremely tough and gave the new Penn State its first black eye, scoring a 20 victory.

FRISCO TO REVIVE. ROLLER SKATING RACES. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—Roller skating in San Francisco will come into its own when the doors of Druggan rink will be thrown open to the public for the first time this year.

The pavilion floor has been reconstructed and will be in first-class shape. It is the plan to revive skating—to put it back on the basis of 1915, when a number of championship races were staged here.

Plans have already been made to bring a number of the most formidable skaters in the East to compete against the best the West has to offer. The first big race will take place some time in January. The rink will be open every night with the exception of Friday, between the hours of 7 and 10, and also on Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

MARYSVILLE PLANS STRONG HOOP TEAM. MARYSVILLE, Col., Nov. 3.—Tip Pacific Gas & Electric employees here have decided to place a strong basketball team in the field this winter. Harold Keady, who made a record with the quarter at Pitt river last season, is now located here and will be a valuable addition to the team. Others who made a record last year on the basketball team were Theodore Zuckney, Fremont De Armond and Lewis Wilson. Thomas Schofield is another new player.

Looks Like Babe Spent All Season Breaking Records

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—An analysis of the batting performance of Babe Ruth this season discloses that the big slugger compiled one of the most remarkable, if not the greatest, records in major league history.

Despite the fact that he failed to lead the American league hitters and was only able to tie Cy Williams of the Phillies for the home run leadership with forty-one circuit blows, eighteen behind the world's record set in 1921.

The complete record of the Babe, however, and the story of his versatile greatness—the work that earned him the crown of the most valuable American league player—show him as the big star of the year.

And to prove the real merit of his performance, it is necessary to only compare his work with that of other bachelors of the diamond.

Advisory Board's Big Split Stirred Rookie's Interest

Here is a tale of the world series that deals with a Yankee recruit who was viewing his first baseball classic. It would be rather unkind to mention his name.

Since the players of both teams share in only the first four games, it is customary for the athletes to peruse with much care the tabulated figures showing attendance, receipts and amounts that go to players and club owners.

Until Judge Landis arrived on the scene the supreme lord in baseball was the national commission. Now Landis is the boss, with the two league presidents forming what is known as the "advisory board" of baseball.

The expenses of this board is taken care of by the world series receipts, a deduction of something like 15 per cent of the gross receipts being made.

In the financial tabulation of the series, the words "Advisory Board" come in for so much money each day. Finally when the amount had passed the $100,000 mark, one of the Yankee rookies, who no longer contains himself and taking one of the veterans into his confidence he asked:

"Who is this Advisory Board, what team is he on and what did he ever do to get so much dough?"

Gridiron Game Aid For Other Sports

Football not alone is increasing its own popularity as a popular sport, but at the same time is proving a boon to other college sports, the character of which does not permit of the wide attraction of the gridiron game.

This is borne out by western conference universities where receipts from football contests are finding their way into new stadiums, athletic fields and gymnasiums.

The University of Wisconsin has opened a newly completed tier of its stadium, built entirely from football receipts. This structure, costing approximately $150,000, will seat 30,000 at the homecoming game.

The University of Michigan is now building a $300,000 gymnasium, soon to be completed, from earnings of its football contests, while other schools are applying their surplus to athletic fields and stadiums.

Football for years has served to give other intercollegiate sports, which of necessity are unable to pay their way. This gives the gridiron game a claim to be known as the financial savior of competitive intercollegiate athletics.

BADDER SWIMMERS HOLD DAILY PRACTICE

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 3.—The Wisconsin varsity swimming team is going through light workouts in preparation for the fall and winter competition.

Coach Joe Schneider is putting the 11 athletes through long, slow drills in the water each day. Practice in technique will not start for several weeks.

Capt. Hugo Cresson, Johnny Bennett, Norman Koch and Hawley Porter, veterans from last year, form a formidable aggregation by themselves.

Other men from last year, as well as numerous freshmen speed artists, are out. Bill, breast stroke swimmer; Simkins, dolphin; and Porter, are apparently the best of last year's freshmen.

Play to Tie

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—La Fayette and Washington and Jefferson played a 6 to 6 tie before 20,000 fans at the Polo Grounds today.

A forward pass from Ernest to Kirk Leslie in the final period resulted in a play that brought La Fayette the even score.

Washington and Jefferson's touchdown was gained through a pass from McLaughlin to Madden.

Record Gate This Year For Eli Crew

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 3.—Yale will this season establish a new American record for football attendance. Record breaking crowds have attended every game yet played, when compared with the corresponding number of persons in attendance at games in previous seasons.

The match with Brown attracted 20,000 persons to the bowl; 20,000 were at the bout with Bucknell, and nearly 30,000 saw the opening clash of the season with North Carolina and Georgia.

FIRST SABORUS FIVE TO INITIATE NEW GYM

SABORUS, Ill., Nov. 3.—The new $50,000 gymnasium of the Saborus High school will be used the first time for a basketball game when the locals clash with East York.

The floor is one of the finest in the county, the playing court measuring 30 by 60 feet, with a sixteen-foot ceiling, and some fast games are anticipated. Saborus High is just starting out in basketball, not having a suitable court heretofore, but it is expected the sport will take hold fast.

Capt. DeLong and E. Holl will likely be selected as guards, with L. Holl and Chell, forwards, and Goudie, center, receiving the call for the remaining positions.

Mack Says Ruel's Best in Big Top

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 3.—Connie Mack, famous leader of the Athletics, regards Muddy Ruel of Washington as the best catcher in the major leagues on the form shown in 1923.

That is some compliment for a catcher who for a half dozen years has floundered about as the second string catcher of the New York and Boston clubs in the American league.

When Ruel was scouted by Washington he got a chance to work regularly, sharing the catching with Eddie Gharrity. The man who had been a catcher for a half dozen years, the catching to fall on Ruel. While Ruel is rather slight for a catcher he has thrived on regular work and has finally come into his own, reached the pinnacle of stardom as a big leaguer.

"Ruel is the best catcher in either major league this year," says Mack. "He has handled his pitchers in fine style and has been a terror at the bat. In addition he is tire

PORT ARTHUR, TEXAS, SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1922.

Port Arthur Magdalene Scores Public Hypocrisy in Her Fight for Soul

I hid all trace of her heart unclean,
I painted a babe at her breast,
I painted her as she might have been
If the worst had been the best.

—Service.

BY THE MAN ABOUT TOWN.

Society with its conventions, its dislikes, quiet, unmet, foibles and habits owes to itself, if it would observe Christian teachings, a different outlook upon the less fortunate of her sisters.

With this scathing blanket bill was society in general indicated for conditions, for the failure to observe one of the cardinal tenets of Christian religion—charity; for the failure to remedy a condition over which it had control was society indicted; for refusing to heed the cry of those down; for singling out the victims for prosecution, permitting those responsible for their conditions to go unmarked, unashamed and unrebuked; for the abhorrence with which the problem is handled.

HUGHEN LAUDS "OZARK'S ROADS"

Realty Man Returns From Overland Tour

An unbroken network of good roads throughout the middle west from the Gulf coast to the Canadian border within the next five or six years is predicted by Tom Hughen, Port Arthur real estate man, who recently returned from the Mississippi river valley.

"In the two years that have elapsed since I made the tour, I find that miles and miles of improved roads have been built and while there are still many bad gaps between the good roads, people are solid on the idea of good roads and within a few years the bad gaps will doubtless give way to improved roads," Hughen said.

What the Smiley Club Does. "Perhaps nowhere in America are people realizing more what the tourist will do toward helping them than in the Ozarks. They have a really beautiful country, with good, permanent roads winding around through the mountains and all the attractions of climate and scenery to draw the tourists; but to all this they are adding an organization called the Smiley Club.

This Smiley Club has a pretty steep entrance fee, and among the requirements is one that members will do toward helping them than in the Ozarks. They have a really beautiful country, with good, permanent roads winding around through the mountains and all the attractions of climate and scenery to draw the tourists; but to all this they are adding an organization called the Smiley Club.

At the beginning it was impressed upon the women being questioned that it was the purpose of this society to dig deeply into them in a critical analysis to pick out their errors to pieces—and in the end to discover to what cause might be laid the fault of their circumstances. Again it was, why?

To those who would touch shallowly on some types of cases, the thought may seem ridiculous. To others it may hold a deeper significance—a reason for why you will—by the presence here of a reincarnated Magdalene. Behind each action there must have been a reaction, so science reaches it. What was the reaction behind that which forced, perhaps but influenced, this woman? Why?

To the questions put to the first woman, it was hard to get a reasonable answer. She was not certain that it wasn't just another "reformer." Out of the depths came her cry:

And in that cry burst forth those lamentations that have been being stored up since the earliest ages of man, the cry of the oppressed, the cry of the persecuted, the cry that rang down throughout all ages and bids fair to ring down through all future ages—the cry of the eternal Magdalene.

Her Story. "You have asked me what is my attitude to the remainder of the world outside my own kind? Well, what could be the reaction in such a case? As I see it, the entire situation could be cleared if there was more sincere desire to help. As I see it, there is nothing but a shamming, hypocritical, coldly unsympathetic world. You know that when I am arrested, my name is printed. Oh, I'm not begging that my name be held out, but there are times when the offense may have been the first one and after the notoriety what chance has one?

"Instead of the 'good-goods' spirit telling many of the so-called social workers what to do next, there should be more of a feeling of pity instead of scorn toward me and mine. For after all what have we done? Driven in many instances to our present condition because of misfortune, illness, and worst of all, shattered illusions.

"But my case isn't so strange in itself, but there are others of the girl I feel all A's.

Shattered illusions, none of every walk in life today, despoiler of dream castles, wrecker of hearts, left not even this strata of society unscathed. The unhealed scars of wasted years leered on in the parting statement of the woman, in A's case, perhaps, something different.

Not Wistful But Too Well. "There's nothing to tell," the girl started out, but she was not a new-pationist and didn't see one of the best human interest yarns of the month in her story.

"Jack and I were childhood, school-day and mature lovers. I came from a north Texas town, Dad died. Our home burned and my mother married again. Rather than go to the coast with her and my stepfather I wanted to stay in Texas for I thought that someday Jack and I would have a home of our own. He wrote me to come to Port Arthur and work, save. ## Paul And Men Making It

Texas U. Frat Honors Bob Rader Thrice

Honor for another Port Arthur boy off at school are given Robert Rader, son of Captain and Mrs. J. F. Rader, who is a senior in the business administration classes at the University of Texas, at Austin.

Rader has been elected to membership in the honorary fraternity Alpha Kappa Psi, and also has been chosen president of the senior class in business administration, according to word received in Port Arthur Saturday.

Membership in the Alpha Kappa Psi fraternity is one of the most coveted honors at the university; the members chosen being students who make highest grades in their classes, and who are most prominently identified with athletic and social activities at the university.

Since receiving an injury in a football game several years ago while playing on the University of Texas team, Rader has been unable to go in for football, but he was given an honorary membership on the university football squad.

Booze in Garbage Can Looked on By Officers As New Selling Scheme

Police yesterday afternoon were checking up the finding of a gallon of whiskey in a garbage can in the residential section of the city by a garbage collector.

In the find of the whiskey, police saw another method to circumvent efforts of the authorities to stem the liquor traffic here. It is believed by police that dispensers of the moonshine are making their deliveries in the city cans, making the product in city cans, making the customer. No owner has claimed the whiskey, police said last night.

RAT GUARD RULE STILL IN EFFECT

Liddell Says Galveston Report Erroneous

Incoming ships from foreign ports must carry rat guards as usual, according to Dr. Liddell, U. S. health officer for the Sabine district.

"A report from Galveston that this order was no longer in force proved to be erroneous," said Dr. Liddell. "I personally took the matter up with the surgeon general and I find that the order will not be suspended. Each ship from a foreign port will be bound by the same rule as heretofore. They must carry rat guards and fend off at least four feet."

Fashion's For Men

FLASKS will be worn lower on the hips, to balance the sag in the pers.

Fat-lined jackets are quite the thing if you wish to keep your small change from rattling against each other audibly.

The sack suit will be de rigueur for those who have just been discharged from their jobs.

Suspenders will be worn by those who don't trust a belt.

The male silhouette will be slightly thinner this Fall, owing to the fact that men are beginning to lose weight trying to make both ends meet.

Celluloid collars should be taboo among those who work near open flames.

The tie known as the jazz bow may be used in an emergency for a shoe string.

HUMBLE CLOSES INFORMATION BUREAU

CORPUS, Nov. 3.—The lid of censorship dropped tonight on the offices of the Humble Oil and Refining company here today, when it was announced that no further official information concerning the oil field activities in this field would be given out for press publication.

The airtight policy has been inaugurated upon orders from head officials of the company at Houston, it was stated at the head office today.

Heretofore the Humble with other major companies operating here has maintained an open-handed policy and the new policy comes as a surprise to many interested in the gigantic oil production of the leading operating organization in this field.

Other companies maintaining offices in Corsicana continue with a wide-open policy in giving out matters of public interest pertaining to oil field operations.

BOLL WORM CLAIMS MAY BE LIQUIDATED

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 3.—Not more than 1,000 boll worm claims are liquidated with any money be withdrawn from the general revenue fund to pay other warrants.

By Nov. 10, approximately $1,000,000 will be paid into the state treasury from quarterly tax receipts. This will enable the treasurer to pay the boll worm claims, amounting to $469,000, and have approximately a half-million dollars with which to liquidate other warrants against the general revenue fund.

NEWTON, N. J., Nov. 3.—Clifford Moore, employed by Loren T. Cole, owner of the Diamond Dairy farm in Montague township, reported today that an Arden-dog he owned gave birth to twenty-five puppies in one litter. The family is doing well.

EDITOR'S RED SHIRT AROUSSES BULL'S EYE

FERTILE, Iowa, Nov. 3.—The story of an editor who was unjustly shot at the expense of B. E. Brown, editor of the local newspaper.

Editor Brown was placidly manhandling his broom, pasteurizer and poultry, retired, as was his custom, in a flaming red shirt, when a black-poll Angus bull happened to be passing Brown's office, saw the shirt.

The bull charged the editorial room. Failing to reach the editor, he tried to climb in the window. He pawed, roared and used his horns, until driven off by the editor's faithful bound dog.

Joint Services to Be Held Nov. 11 By City Churches

Community celebration of Armistice Day in Port Arthur, November 11, is arranged by committees from the Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion posts and the ministerial association.

Services in the Strand theater at 10:45 a. m., Sunday, November 11, when the regimental band of the 11th engineers, 36th division, Texas National Guard, and the combined choirs of all the city churches will participate was decided upon by the committees from the three organizations at a meeting Thursday night in the Red Cross hut, Fifth street and Dallas avenue, according to an announcement made Saturday by Major C. H. Fitzgerald, post commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Ask Truett Here. An out of town speaker, probably Rev. Dr. George W. Truett, pastor of the First Baptist church of Dallas, will deliver the Armistice Day address, Major Fitzgerald said. A telegram has been sent Dr. Truett asking that he speak in Port Arthur Armistice Day, but up until a late hour Saturday night, no word had been received from him.

VICTORIA CHILDREN WIN INSURANCE SUIT

VICTORIA, Nov. 3.—The little children of Fritz Winters represented by A. Rindorf, their grandfather, were awarded a judgment for $10,000 against the American Union of Entrepreneurs in the case here, the sum representing the amount of insurance policy held by Winters in the order.

Winters was found dead in his car April 1, after taking his children to school. There was a bullet-hole through his heart and a pistol in his hand. His wife died a few weeks before. The insurance order claimed that the man committed suicide, which would annul the policy.

LAMESA OFFICER IS FREED IN SLAYING

LAMESA, Nov. 3.—A verdict of acquittal was returned after an hour's deliberation in favor of Walter Henderson charged with the murder of C. L. Simmons' son on Wednesday afternoon.

According to the evidence in the trial Simmons was slain in a cemetery at Lamesa, when the latter tried to place him under arrest. The slaying occurred Oct. 21.

BABY SPANKED, GETS ANGRY; DROPS DEAD. ELAMIRA, Nov. 3.—A demonstration of how anger may produce death occurred here today when Morrow Willey, a three-year-old, dropped dead in a rage just after he had been spanked.

Physicians say death was due to some dilation of the heart, caused by the child's indignation.

Morrow's father paddled him in an effort to curb the boy's violent spells of temper. After the whipping he kept his foot, staggered a moment and fell in a limp heap.

MEXICAN SLAYER PLACED IN ASYLUM. # THE SUNDAY NEWS' SOCIAL AND CLUB PAGE

Smart Set's Interest Centers in Beautiful Wedding of Next Week

SYMBOLS and signs and seasons come and go and we are perpetually being put off with the old and on with the new in the way of arranging environments for festive affairs—or those smaller events which are in the nature of "just gatherings." Halloween has been providing the theme for decorations the past two weeks and all sorts of accessories and unique emblems were used by hostesses in their decorations for the homes.

But now that November has come and the gay Halloween season has passed, society has resumed its club activities and regular routine and hostesses are beginning to look forward to the Thanksgiving holidays and the Christmas season, both of which will bring home quite a number of the members of the younger set. With their return, even though they may be but short, many charming hospitalities will be given.

Aside from the regular club meetings of the past week and several unusually attractive affairs, quite a number of dances, parties and bridges were given, all meaning large gatherings of society.

November finds the social and club life of Port Arthur immensely alive, filled with interesting plans.

Notable among the affairs of the coming week will be the wedding of Miss Mary Melbride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Melbride, and Mr. Charles C. Welhausen of Youkum, around which society's interest has been centered since the announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage at a lovely bridge recently.

The wedding will be a smart affair at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Melbride, 1521 Proctor street, on Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. Rev. R. H. Yellerman, pastor of the First Christian church will officiate.

The home will be in elaborate adornment for the happy event, and a rainbow motif will be reflected in the gowns of the bride's attendants.

Mrs. S. D. Bennett of Beaumont will attend the attractive bride as matron of honor, and Miss Beatrice Halloran will serve as maid of honor. The bridesmaids will be Misses Frankie Mae Taylor and Allen Johnson.

Mr. Leslie Merren of Youkum will serve as best man, and Newt Mosheim and Robert Johnson will act as groomsmen.

Ribbon bearers, chosen from the sub-beds of the younger set, will be Misses Ada Bliss, Faye Dickey, Irene Williams and Josephine Timmons.

Miss Marie LeMaster will render a delightful program of wedding music preceding the ceremony, and Mrs. J. E. Grammer will sing two beautiful selections, "O Prince Me" and "At Dawning."

A reception will follow the ceremony, and during the evening Mr. Welhausen and his pretty bride will leave for New Orleans, from which point they sail for Cuba and Panama, returning via Palm Beach, where they expect to spend several weeks.

After the extended wedding tour Mr. Welhausen and his bride will make their home in Youkum.

The wedding on Thursday will add Port Arthur society of one of its charming members for Miss Melbride is a popular girl in social circles, who is admired by a wide circle of friends here.

She is a graduate of the Beaumont high school and a graduate of law at the University of Texas.

It was at the University of Texas that the romance, which culminated in Thursday's wedding, had its inception while Miss Melbride was a junior and Mr. Welhausen was a senior.

Both a widely known and popular in college circles.

Mr. Welhausen is a prominent young business man of Youkum and general manager of the Texas, Hugo and Leonty company of that city. He is the son of C. D. Welhausen of Shreveport, Texas, and a member of one of the oldest families in Texas.

The approaching wedding has been the occasion of a number of charming hospitalities for Miss Melbride, who has been named honor guest at several delightful bridge parties and showers.

A lovely bridge luncheon Friday, appointed in a pink motif was a charmingly arranged affair in entertainment of the Friday Bridge Club, with Mrs. J. E. Biggers as hostess at her home, 3021 Proctor street.

The table was graced with a lovely arrangement of gorgeous pink roses and covers were laid for twelve guests. Throughout the attractive home the favored blossoms mingled with green foliage were generously clustered in baskets and bowls, making a charming setting for the graceful hospitality.

Bridge table appointments also included the pink theme, and in the home, which followed the luncheon, Mrs. C. C. Collins was awarded the club prize and the guest of honor presented to Mrs. Carl Modglin.

Friday's session of the club was the last meeting of the club this season, and at a short session presiding the Jackson, Mrs. Frank Imhoff was elected president of the club.

The personnel of guests enjoying Mrs. Biggers' charming hospitality were Mrs. C. C. Harrell, Mrs. Carl Modglin, Mrs. Charles Atwell, Mrs. Edith Latimer, Mrs. Dean Dorchester, Mrs. Frank Imhoff, Mrs. A. N. Decker, Mrs. S. O. Latimer, Mrs. Howard Smith, Mrs. W. N. McElernest, Mrs. Henry C. Collins, and Mrs. W. W. Smith.

Mrs. Henry C. Collins will entertain the club next week at her home, 648 Oak boulevard.

MISS FRANCES AND BELLE Wills entertained with a Halloween party at their home, 1340 DeQueen boulevard, Wednesday evening.

The guests, masqueraded as spooks, were met at the front door by Miss's Bessie Pierce and Frances Wills, who led them down the rough and rugged spook path to a wide entrance and ushered into the kitchen to fish for "warnings" in the spook pool. They were then marched into the dining room, where each spook was required to bob for his apple before gaining entrance into the living room.

After all the guests were assembled in the living room they were admitted one by one to the mystery room where a number of weird spooks were grouped around the headless woman, beating their bones, giving ghastly groans and unearthly shrieks, while black cats and witches were bobbing up from everywhere.

Upon leaving the mystery room the guests visited the room of the quaint old witch who was ready to unfold what the future had in store. The remainder of the evening was spent in various contests and games suited to the occasion. Ray McCloud proved the lucky winner in an amusing contest and was awarded the prize, a witch doll. Refreshments of hot chocolate and wafers were served during the evening.

Those enjoying this pleasing affair were: Messrs. Bertha Satterwhite, Anne Laurie Tippitt, Bessie Pierce, Mima Hollinger, Bertha Camp, Edna May, Clara, Eunice Chaslin, Virginia Holby, Fayette Talley, Stella Deas, Mable Taylor, Ida Belle Thurston, Belle Wills, and Frances Wills, Mesdames D. ### Nederland Notes

The Nederland School board met in a special session Monday evening to canvass the returns of an election held Saturday, to determine whether or not bonds should be issued in the amount of $20,000 to supplement the $100,000 bonds voted last February.

An order was passed declaring the results to be 70 votes for the bonds and 6 against the bonds. Bonds have been issued from contracts for the construction work on the new building and will be opened November 15, at which time it is hoped a favorable bid will be received and contract let, as members of the board state.

Mr. Graham of Dallas, Texas, has accepted a position with the Humphries Pure Oil company.

The rival meeting which has been in progress for two weeks closed Sunday night. The two six men members were received into the Methodist church during the two weeks. Rev. Ed Morgan of Texarkana did the preaching.

Mrs. James McNeill, Jr. will leave Friday for Waco, Texas, where she will visit friends and relatives for ten days.

Miss Vera Wintrobe attended the Irene Castle show at the Kyle Theatre Tuesday evening.

Misses Lois Ebbison and Esther Newberry visited the home folks in Beaumont the past weekend.

Miss Wilhelmina Bostert spent Sunday with her sister in Port Arthur. The Nederland church, composed of Mrs. L. Koelmans, piano; L. Koelmans, violin; Albert Davidson, clarinet; Paul M. McNeill, saxophone; and Delmar Johnson, drums, played Monday night at Port Neches, assisting the ladies of the Eastern Star in a program there.

Among the Nederlanders attending the Eastern Star play at Port Neches Monday evening were: Mrs. R. D. Dawson, Mr. and Mrs. Bertha Cooke, Mrs. E. J. Lohm and daughter, Miss Albin, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Ingerson, son Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McNeill, Mr. and Mrs. L. Koelmans, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Hoffman.

Mrs. J. L. Black was in Beaumont Monday.

Mrs. Fred Bostert will entertain the Weekly Division Club at her home Thursday.

The Halloween spirit predominated in Nederland this week, many entertainments being given.

Mrs. Fred Roach proved a charming hostess on Thursday afternoon when she delightfully entertained the members of the Division Club at her home from 2 until 1:30 o'clock. The Halloween motif predominated in the decorations of the home, also in the dainty refreshments. After several games of ruck, Mrs. James Burestin won first score, while Mrs. George Roach secured second. Tempting salad plates were served to the following ladies present: Mrs. J. M. Carter, Mrs. J. L. Black, Mrs. George Roach, Mrs. J. E. Williamson, Mrs. R. D. Dawson, Mrs. Jas. Burestin, Mrs. A. S. Chesnut, Mrs. C. L. Freeman, Mrs. E. T. Ingerson, Misses Angelina and Teresa Kaper and the hostess, Mrs. Fred Roach. Mrs. J. L. Black will entertain the club next Thursday.

Thursday was a great day for the school children as there wasn't any school. Many took advantage of the day and attended the fair in Beaumont.

Misses Dorothy Jordan and Pauline Briley attended the Irene Castle show in Beaumont Tuesday night.

One of the most delightful Halloween parties of the week was the one given by Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Hoffman at their home Wednesday night. The guests were stunning in their various costumes to represent clowns, Spaniards, witches, Martha Washington, spooks and many other costumes. On entering the home each guest was met by the den of "spooks" and were given a hearty welcome. In the contest for the best dressed man and lady, Mr. Otto McDonald and Miss Alberta Ponce won the prizes. Numbers of interesting contests were enjoyed, and at a late hour refreshments were served to the following young people: Misses Angelina and Teresa Kaper, Wilhelmina Bostert, Dorothy Jordan, Pauline Briley, Vera Wintrobe, Lois Ebbison, Esther Newberry, Phila Burton, Lucille Ritter, Mrs. E. T. Ingerson, and Misses, E. W. Jackson, A. Adams, Bill Hays, William McNeill, Otto McDonald, Lucille Ritter, John Kaper, and Paul McNeill.

The two children of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Barfield were sick this week. J. E. Williamson is enjoying a two weeks' vacation from the Texas Company.

Miss Lacy Jansson entertained her music and express pupils on last Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. John Morgan, also a number of parents were present. Several contests were enjoyed, and several musical numbers were also enjoyed. Toasting of marshmallows over a camp fire caused much merriment after which ice cream and cake were served to about twenty guests.

Mrs. Fred Roach was in Beaumont Wednesday.

Another pretty Halloween affair was the party given at W. O. W. hall Thursday night by the young people's class of the First Baptist church. Witches, cats, spooks, pumpkins and other Halloween suggestions decorated the walls, and windows which made the room look quite weird. The fortune tellers' booth, where the fortunes were told was a most popular place all during the evening. Many games and contests were enjoyed, looking for the apples, peanut races, and many other stunts helped to make the time entirely too short. About twenty-five young people enjoyed this party.

Mrs. T. J. Dampas has returned from a visit with relatives in Louisiana.

Miss Helen Handcut of Port Arthur was a guest of home folks on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McNeill are in Waco, attending the Baylor A & M football games this week.

On Stage and Screen In Port Arthur Theatres

Four Stars Will Be Seen on Silver Screen During Coming Week

VIOLA DANA, (left) distinctive star who has a host of admirers among theatergoers in Port Arthur, comes to the Peoples theater today in "Roughed Lips," a delightful comedy-drama taken from the well known short story, "Upstage."

ALMA RUBENS, (right) costars with Lionel Barrymore in "Enemies of Women," which will be seen at the Peoples this week. She will be seen as Alicia, Duchess Delille, who through war service and self-sacrifice regenerates the decadent prince, played by Lionel Barrymore.

GUY BATES POST, (above) will be seen at the Pearce theater in "Omar the Tentmaker" on Tuesday. He gives two distinct characterizations of Omar Khayyam.

Guy Bates Post to Head Bill at Pearce in Omar, Kirkland Revue at Elks

A diversified offering of motion picture attractions and musical comedy bills for the theater patrons is presented in Port Arthur this week. Comedy, problem and society dramas, western and human interest plots compose the program arranged by theater managers for their audiences. In point of interest, "Enemies of Women" will be the principal attraction at the Peoples this week. Lionel Barrymore and Alma Rubens costar in this production, which was Delasco Hanes' great novel, and which was filmed mostly in Europe.

Guy Bates Post will be seen this week in "Omar the Tentmaker," and Francis Bushman and Beverly Bayne are to star at the Strand in "Modern Marriage." Little Viola Dana will be seen in a comedy, "Roughed Lips." For thrills "Westbound Limited" is offered at the Pearce theater.

For musical comedy bills the Strand theater and the Elks theater both promise excellent vaudevilles this coming week. The Popular Players at the Strand theater and Bonnie Kirkland's Musical Revue at the Elks are becoming popular with theatergoers of the city.

A western picture above the average is promised to patrons of the Pearce theater when Tom Mix stars.

'Omar the Tentmaker' Stars Famous Masquerader

The fountain of youth was worked out by Guy Bates Post in "Omar the Tentmaker," which will open an engagement of four days at the Pearce theater Tuesday.

The story may be roughly divided into two eras, 30 years apart; Post gives two distinct characterizations of Omar Khayyam. In the first part of the photoplay Omar is seen as a youth in the early twenties; toward the end of the picture, he is a man of fifty or more.

Lionel Barrymore Leads In 'Enemies of Women'

Actual motion pictures of Monte Carlo, its casinos and terraces, and highly colored decorations.

The action of the story begins at the Casino de Monte Carlo in 1918. The film depicts the decadent Prince, played by Lionel Barrymore, and his party to the Riviera where six weeks were spent on these scenes.

Prince Michael Lubimoff, Russian, through war service and self-sacrifice, stages gorgeous parties, made

Personnel of Popular Players Is Increased

A bigger and better musical comedy company at the Strand Theatre that will give to the people of Port Arthur a cleaner and more wholesome entertainment than they have had before is the aim of the Strand Theatre, Manager J. A. Holton declared yesterday.

The company is presenting "The Elixir of Youth" as their introductory bill.

Albert Taylor, who is directing the company, takes the part of the scientist who has discovered the elixir of youth. Kate Parsons, his harassed sister, is now to Port Arthur and direct from a vantage point of the eastern states.

Paul Martin, as the general who drinks the wonderful youth giving elixir, will be remembered from his former visits to the city with several of the high class companies which have appeared here in the past.

Miss Helen Barkwell, as the new comers, comes to Port Arthur with many fluttering notes. She will portray the part of the Spanish girl married to the scientist's son, and is the cause of many of the many mixups and funny situations in the playing, owing to her broken English.

Miller Evans is the chief of police who is straightening out the tangle. Bonnie Morton, who is well known here and one of the few regulars by the Strand management, is especially delightful as Alicia, Duchess Delille, through war service and self-sacrifice, stages gorgeous parties, made Screen producers have stretched their imaginations to the breaking point in their efforts to devise new and thrilling stories for motion pictures. The record of the screen bristles with memorable thrill episodes calculated to grip the hearts of the audiences and make their hair stand on end.

In "Westbound Limited," the producer immortalizes and glorifies the railroad men of America. Johnny Harron, brother of the late Bobby Harron, risks his neck in one of the most strikingly realistic and thrilling scenes ever thing upon a motion picture screen.

Down the winding road, Harron, stood on the white horse's back. Then came a deep ravine—a great gap in the forest hesitated momentarily.

The horse hesitated momentarily. The road almost obscured by the pitch black night.

Then came the big moment. Over the

'Modern Marriage,' a New Film On An Old Subject

Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne, in planning a return to the screen, could not have chosen more wisely than to star in "Modern Marriage," which comes to the Strand on Wednesday.

"How do Bushman and Bayne look today?" That is the question fans have been asking ever since it was announced that the stars would come back to the screen in "Modern Marriage." ## LEVEES

Present Height Is Insufficient

Following Council in favor of all proposed improvements in Mayor Logan's proposed levee work, the city council has decided to build a levee in Port Arthur for more adequate protection for Port Arthur before money is expended for further improvements. In a letter to the News Saturday:

"The object I have in mind is this: I would regret very much to see the city do as the city I am from did when it was overflowed by small tides for 50 years and the question of a sea wall was often discussed, but allowed to drift along until they had built a part of approximately 50,000 population. Then suddenly came a 15-foot tide and drowned approximately one-fourth of the entire population, and made a record that unlimited sea walls can never blot out, and the city will always suffer until loss because of its reputation, which fate will be Port Arthur's, unless we do in Port Arthur what that city should have done before the great loss came, and to meet only the reasonable expectation in time of a 10 or 12 foot tide."

We should not think of less than a well-raised levee not less than 15 feet high, and 20 feet would be better in the way of assured safety than any way money can be spent, and I will appreciate, and I believe the public will appreciate letters from others posted on this subject than any other line of improvement. I wish to be understood as not opposing any plan of improvement, for I believe they are needed, but ask you to protect them before they are put in. Or in other words, let's make a better levee the first part of our next improvement."

Magdalene Scores Public Hypocrisy

ing our money for the next 10 years and went to work. I banked my money in his name thinking, believing, and hoping that some day we would realize on our savings. Jack soon had enough money to buy a car. He did I saw less of him each week. I became ill and unable to work and when I asked him for some of my own money he refused to give it to me. I begged and pleaded for him not to go out with other girls for I loved him. But it was no use.

On the show-down he told me he didn't care for me any longer. I asked for money to go to my mother. He refused me. I asked him what would become of me and he laughed and said, "I guess it's the canal or across the bridge."

the temple, but don't be peevish. You see, I'm blamed. I suppose for not being strong enough to take it out myself, but instead of getting a strong arm to help me out of the net when I was down, I got a couple of kicks and—have a drink? No, right. May I can tell you a story, not about herself, but about a kid she met home that would make a good one for you. She's just a few doors from here. Drop down and see her and tell her I said you will you?"

It proved unwilling to talk. She hadn't done nothing and didn't care to talk. C. her neighbor, thought differently.

"Why, that kid is one of the squarest shooting girls I ever met. You know, sometime ago when a case came up and the jury kicked in with money to pay the girl's fine. B. sent the kid home to her folks."

"The police grabbed this little girl and put her on trial. She told every thing she knew about herself. She had been deserted and a two-year-old baby left on her hands. Rather than put it in a home she did the best she could to keep her baby and soul together."

"At a jury trial, however, the jury kicked in with enough to pay the fine and costs. They assessed her. Oh, don't pay any attention to B. That's her way. She doesn't want to talk about it cause she's out without a cent that winter. B. is a man that kid and her baby back home to her mother."

And the girl who shivered through her part of the primrose path that night, the family circle while yet there was time had nothing to say.

Again the blanket imbedment hurried at so city in general bobble up with the aging denunciation that those outside the pale had fathered—had slipped—had failed to evade the epithet—hypocrites."

And one of the last women who be sought out, gave forth the strongest show of her condition and the circumstances attendant thereto. Without the language of the scholar, unlearned she voiced her opinion. Yet her theory does not seem strange.

"You will find at the bottom of much of the conditions a man at one time or another. You may spend a lot of time, it's all bunk. It ain't love, it's vanity. Love doesn't drive men to's delicate and delicate. Love, it's vanity that does that. They're sure cause they can't be the first fiddle or none at all. Vanity it is instead of love. Vanity in realizing that there is someone who think well of you. Vanity in realizing that to another you are the entire world. Vanity and not love, not love, but vanity. It's all the same, and that's all there is. They ain't any more."

Blood was taken in police court on a charge of larceny.

NICKEL ENOUGH FOR COFFEE ANYWHERE

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—Ten cents for a cup of coffee is an excessive price, said Secretary Joseph Hushkevich of the council's high cost committee.

Here is what he said his investigation shows the actual cost including overhead of coffee is per cup: Coffee bean 24 cent, cream 1 1/2 cent, sugar 3 1/2 cent. Total less than 2 3/4 cents.

Five cents would be a fair price," he added.

100 Miles of More Good Roads for Autos in America

1,000 Miles Paved, While Macadam and Dirt Styles Abound

Road Builders' Association Helps To Link Chain Of Important American Cities For Tourists Annually As Program Goes On

ROADBUILDING belongs close to the top in the list of big business in the United States. The latest estimate compiled by Thos. H. MacDonald, chief of the United States bureau of public roads, shows that during 1923 approximately 40,000 miles of surfaced roads will be completed.

The 1923 construction program approximated 37,000 miles divided as follows: 6,000 miles of pavement such as brick, concrete, sheet asphalt and bituminous concrete; 4,000 miles of macadam, waterbound and bituminous; 20,000 miles of gravel and 7,000 miles of sand-clay and top-soil roads. The classification of this year's 40,000 miles will be about the same.

At the beginning of this year, there were about 400,000 miles of improved surfaced roads in existence and at the present rate of progress, this mileage will be doubled in ten years.

One of the most important factors in the great movement for more and better roads which has resulted in the construction of improved highways at the rate of 40,000 miles a year, is the American Road Builders' association which was organized more than 20 years ago, and which holds an annual convention and road show. The 1924 convention and show will be held in Chicago, the convention at the Coliseum hotel and the show at the Coliseum from January 14 to 18 inclusive.

The sessions of the convention will be open to men identified with and interested in highway work and will attract auto men from every part of the country. At the show in the Coliseum, all of the latest and approved appliances for road construction will be on exhibition. The officers of the association are: President, Frank Page, secretary, E. A. Birchard, and treasurer, James H. MacDonald. The members of the executive committee are: Chairman, Frank Page; S. T. Henry, James H. MacDonald, William H. Smith and T. J. Wassner.

The need for road construction at so rapid a rate as 40,000 or more miles a year is emphasized by Mr. MacDonald who says that highway building should be continued as fast as the physical limitations of labor and material will permit. The long or the job is delayed, the greater will be the ultimate cost to the people. The reason is that the traffic on the main roads has now become so heavy that the excessive cost of operating motor vehicles over had roads outweighs the cost of constructing good ones. Referring to one of the more heavily traveled roads of the country—the Boston Post road from New York to Boston—MacDonald shows that if the road were dirt road instead of paved route as it is, the greater cost of the motor truck traffic alone would pay for a paved surface in about eleven years. If the tremendous passenger car traffic were considered, the operating saving would pay the construction cost in a much shorter period.

To illustrate the pressing need for all possible speed in the improvement of roads, Mr. MacDonald cited the tremendous growth of motor vehicle registration. By July 1st of the year, the number of motor vehicles traveling the highways had increased to more than 13,000,000, as compared with 1,711,320 in 1914. How directly the highway touches the lives of all the people is shown by the fact that there is now more than one motor vehicle for each 10 people. By just a little crowding the whole population could be taken for a ride at one time.

The federal aid highway system which will shortly be approved in its entirety is indicative of the determination of the American people to have a highway system consistent with the demands of the traffic. The system will include nearly 180,000 miles of the most important roads of the United States, so located as to form a complete network of main interstate

"Divining Rod" Finds Auto Noises

USE the divining rod method to locate a knock or other foreign noise in your engine. It's the way automobile motors are tested in the factories before they are passed on for shipment.

The divining rod used is none other than the gear shifting lever. By its use, inspectors can tell whether a new motor is out of perfect time. It carries the sounds of all parts of the engine to the inspector's ear, and if there is anything wrong in its operation the inspector knows it.

Trained Ear
In a room full of running motors, an inspector can detect any unusual sound in a single engine by putting his ear to the tip of the gear shifting lever. That's because he knows the note of a perfect motor.

Besides, each particular kind of unusual sound will tell the inspector exactly where it comes from. His ears are trained to distinguish such sounds and locate them.

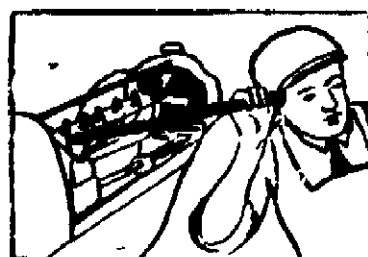

But for those whose ears aren't as keen as the motor inspector's, there is another kind of divining rod. It is a piece of a broomstick or other wood. Or it may be a long screw driver.

With this simple divining rod foreign noises can be detected not only in the engine but in any other moving part of the automobile. The method of application is simple.

Simple Use.
Place one end of the rod against the part which is suspected of making the unusual noise. Then put the free end in the crook of the thumb and the thumb knuckle against your ear drum.

If the part runs smoothly and nothing is wrong with it, a regular hum will be heard. Otherwise, the hum will be interrupted by a knock or other strange sound.

In this way, any fault in the running of the automobile can be located by moving the divining rod from one position to another. Sometimes location of a fault is more difficult than its correction, after it is found.

STANDARDIZED

Car springs may be protected from mud and rust by means of a leather boot and oiler. Openings are made for oiling, so that the spring leaves are kept lubricated.

Top should never be folded down when it is not thoroughly dry.

BAND PROTECTS TOOLS

Tools underneath the front seat may be safeguarded against theft by the attachment of a steel band and lock now being manufactured. The band is hinged to the rear of the seat and bends over to be locked in place against the bottom.

SPRING BOOT, OILER

LIVINGSINE—Automobile with a partially enclosed body and a permanent top extending the full length and attached to the windshield. The put behind the driver is fully enclosed. The low doors and a fixed cross seat for two are in the forward, open section.

Pure soap and warm water is all that is needed to clean seat covers.

BUICK EARN PUBLIC FAVOR

Adherence to Ideals of Building Gets Tribute

Well on its way toward the two-million mark in production, Buick is firmly entrenched as the standard of comparison in performance and safety. Muri May, local dealer, avers: "This position is one that has been given to Buick by the public by the sincere tribute of buying Buick cars in preference to other makes. It is a hard-earned position and one which is so precious that Buick would never consider any action which would endanger it."

Motorists, after twenty years, know that this is true, May continues. They know that when Buick introduces an improvement it is a tried and proven one, with a definite need for its inspiration and with an application that is fine because it is practical. Any effort on the part of less successful interests to detract from such a reputation is a burlesque which the public views with a sense of humor. Like all publicity which does not have truth as its basis, it has the opposite effect from the one for which it is designed. In this case it is calling attention to Buick's strongest selling points and is no doubt playing its part in the tremendous sale of Buick values in the head motor cars in every section of the country today.

TO CLEAN RADIATOR

Drain the radiator. Dissolve one pound of washing soda in five gallons of water. Strain the mixture through a cloth and pour into the radiator; then run the engine for five minutes. Uncover the plug from the bottom of the radiator and drain thoroughly. If there should be a petcock instead of a plug unscrew the entire petcock, so that the sediment may run out freely. Then flush the system with fresh water and run the engine while doing so. Be sure that all the solution is washed from the radiator and the engine water jacket.

GASOLINE RISES IN WORLD

Gasoline, which prior to 1880, was virtually a waste product, difficult to sell at any price, and in some cases even dumped from the refinery into the streams, has become the most important product obtained from crude oil.

PROPOSE BOULEVARD

Plans and specifications covering the McCormick road have been completed and bids will be opened by the Chicago sanitary district soon. The project contemplates the construction of a concrete motor boulevard 54 feet in width and four and one-half miles in length along the north shore channel of the ordinary canal. It will provide a new auto route from Chicago and will later be connected with the West Park boulevard system.

TESTED PARKING TIPS

It saves the steering process when working in and out of parking space to keep the car moving, if only just creeping, when turning at the wheel. Advance the gas a little when starting to back into the tight parking space. It saves a stall.

MOVES FROM DETROIT

James MacDonald, chief of the potential division of the General Motors organization and will later be connected with the West Park boulevard system.

VICTORY ROAD WORK BOOSTED

Memorial Route Leads Gotham to 'Frisco

TOPEKA, Kans., Nov. 3.—The road construction season of 1923 has seen a tremendous amount of road improvement of the Victory highway, transcontinental memorial highway, from New York city to San Francisco. In Kansas, Missouri, Colorado, Utah and Nevada the most extensive road surfacing, graveling and general improvements projects have been carried on are now under way, while there has been general improvement work undertaken throughout the length of the highway.

The route chosen by the Victory Highway association maps and routes committee across the state of Missouri has been closed throughout the season, while its improvement has been under way—no less an undertaking than the construction of concrete pavement from Kansas City to St. Louis over the most direct possible route between the two cities.

In Eastern Kansas, on Sept. 20, the completion of the final links in the pavement between Kansas City and Silver Lake, nearly 100 miles westward, will be celebrated at a joint meeting sponsored by the Chambers of Commerce of Kansas City, Tongueville, Lawrence, Leavenworth and Topeka.

In Colorado the state highway department reports progress on three federal aid projects under construction on the Victory highways west of Denver. The three projects represent nearly twelve miles of gravel and crushed stone construction.

Five and a half miles of gravel-surfaced road east from Hayden toward Mount Harris is 98 per cent completed; three and a half miles of crushed rock highway from the west end of the Colfax avenue concrete highway near Rifle range toward Mount Ver-

LEARN TO USE ENGINE

It would be unnecessary to place so much reliance upon the brakes. If drivers would learn how to use the engine for deceleration. When it is apparent that a stop must be made—and there is time to think of economizing on brake lining—disengage the clutch, close the throttle to the idling position and then re-engage the clutch. The engine's compression will reduce the speed of the car about five miles an hour. If there is time to repeat the process, it is obvious that the brakes will have less work to do.

GLARE BEING CURED

Indiscriminate use of glaring headlights is, motorists generally agree, an evil which motorizing courtesy is steadily obliterating. The driver who glares his lights at an approaching car is stamping himself as inconsistent and a menace and is being so generally reminded of the fact that he is mending his ways.

non is 22 per cent complete. On the Muddy Creek road, 2.58 miles of gravel road, extending north from the end of the six-mile unit completed last year, is making favorable progress.

TOO MANY STOP SIGNS ON ROADS

Auto Clubs Favor Removal of Unessentials

Branding unnecessary danger signs and "stop" signals along public highways as dangerous, many automobile clubs are campaigning for their removal.

In the east instances are reported where automatic flash "stop-railroad" crossing signs have been put up by national advertisers 300 feet in advance of a spur track crossing the highway where the tracks are used once or twice a month, just because the location was ideal from an advertising standpoint. On the same highways where these signs were needed, they were often missing.

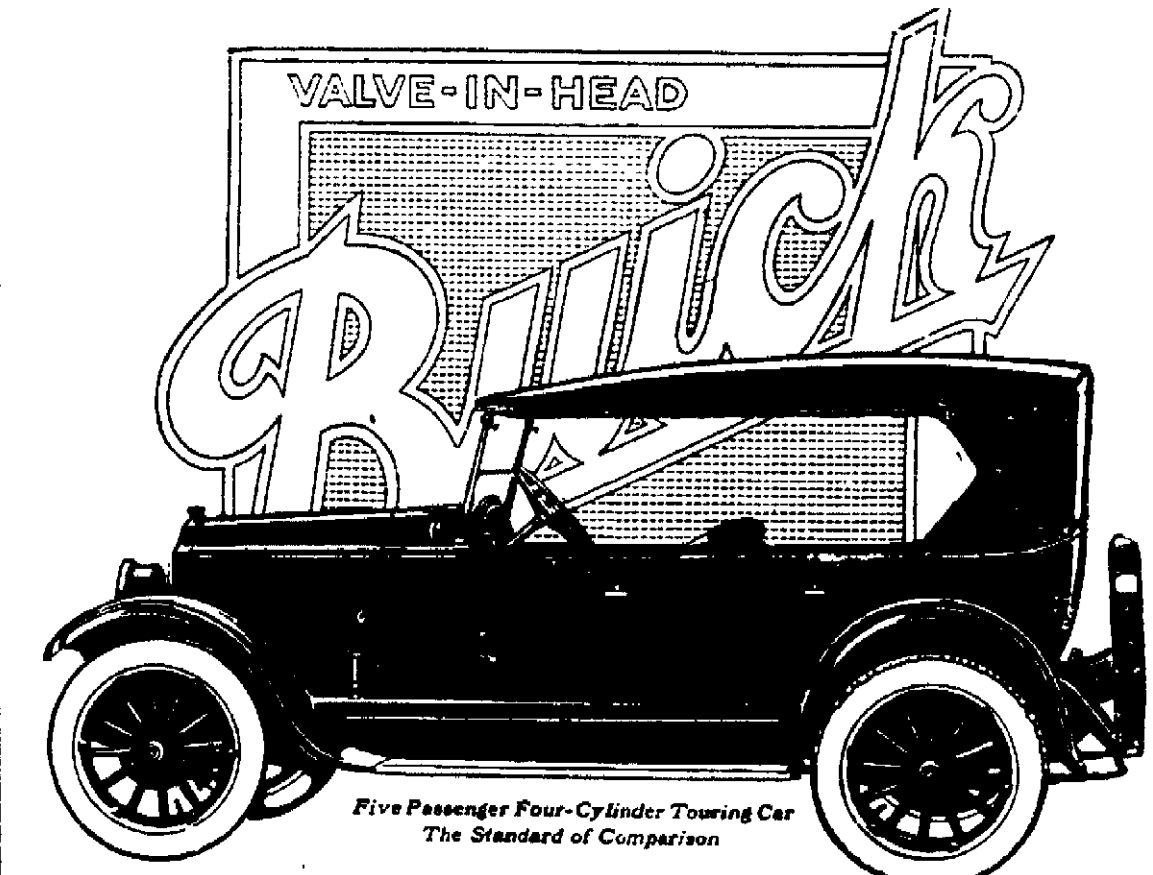

In New Jersey, at a wide place in the road, a cut-out painted figure representing a traffic officer and semaphore on the arms of which are painted the words "stop" with the name of the tea house underneath, blocks traffic. The figure of the traffic officer is so realistic under the glare of headlights that motorists who are not acquainted with the deception will instinctively obey the semaphore. In Connecticut the state highway department has requested the motor vehicle department to have removed "stop" signs placed by property owners in advance of private roads leading from the homes to the main highway, maintaining that it is the duty of these owners to stop before driving onto the main highway.

DORMANT

The "fairweather" driver who imagines that the first snow means it is time to put his car in the garage for a winter vacation generally finds that just as expensive as running his car during the cold months, to say naught of the pleasure he misses. This breed of motorist is just becoming extinct along with the auk, the good 5-cent cigar and the buffalo nickel.

Use of warning signs or stop signals, where they are not required makes the motorist who has been fooled careless when he approaches a warning signal which is properly placed for his protection.

Five Passenger Four-Cylinder Touring Car The Standard of Comparison

A Car of Greater Utility

Thoroughly representative of the 1924 Buicks, this four-cylinder, five passenger Touring Car is new from end to end. Its new body, frame, fenders and radiator—its new Buick valve-in-head engine—its four-wheel brakes, all exemplify Buick's policy of building into its cars greater utility and satisfaction with each succeeding year.

The minute attention to those details that make for greater comfort and convenience is well expressed in the new windshield, new ventilator operated by a push lever, wide, low and tilted seats and compactly grouped instruments. This Buick four-cylinder Touring Car worthily maintains the Buick reputation—Standard of Comparison.

NEW PAY PLAN BY CHEVROLET

'Own a Car By Spring' is Essence of Announcement

Local Chevrolet dealers are offering the Port Arthur people something new in the way of paying for an automobile. By making $25.00 down payment and $15.00 deposit each pay-day (semi-monthly) enough money is saved by spring to take delivery of a new Chevrolet car. The object of this plan is to help the public accumulate by very small payments enough money to make the regular down payment on a new car. The Chevrolet spring time saving plan not only helps the customer get a car, but it helps him to get into the habit of saving his money rather than throwing it away. By the time he has saved $300.00 or more each month, which is the amount required to make the initial down payment in the spring, he will have acquired the habit of saving, and will have no difficulty in saving enough money to pay out the car under the regular time payment plan.

One of the most interesting features about the Chevrolet Spring Time Saving Club is claimed to be the fact that the depositors are paid 6 per cent interest on the amount of money paid to the Chevrolet Spring Time Savings Club. The members of the Chevrolet Spring Time Savings Club absolutely no chance on losing any of their money, as it is agreed and outlined in the contract that any member may withdraw the entire amount deposited without question on the part of the dealer, should he find he cannot complete the contract, says Philip Inman.

The big idea of the Chevrolet Spring Time Saving Club is to insure the public of prompt deliveries of cars in the spring, as it is a well known fact in the coming spring, the Chevrolet Motor company, like a good many other exceptionally popular makes, will be short on production, and the demand for their products will probably double the supply. It is the desire of Philip Inman & Company, local Chevrolet dealers, to supply the spring demand for cars, and they are using this means of getting orders for early spring, Inman said.

USING REAR SIGNALS

If you have installed a spotlight rear signaling device make an effort to see that it is operated properly. The effectiveness of such a device is in the care it receives and in the way it is used.

Have it adjusted so that the signal does not flash until the brake pedal is about half way down. This eliminates much of the unnecessary flashing when you are merely keeping the car under control by applying the brakes lightly.

Be sure to take current from the ammeter, rather than direct from the battery or the starter circuit which is not connected with the ammeter. If the connection is made in the ammeter, the indicator will flicker each time the signal is in operation, showing you that it is in operation.

If your switch does not already have it insert a small coil spring between the switch and the end of the pull wire which is attached to the brake rod. With the spring inserted the changing position of the pedal due to wear of the brakes will not necessitate changing the switch adjustment.

PARKING OF VEHICLES IS PERMITTED IN PARIS

Paris, where 100,000 motor vehicles of all kinds circulate in the comparatively small area, is said to be the world's most horrible traffic example. There are speed laws and several traffic rules, but these are seldom heeded and parking of cars is permitted anywhere in the city.

Overland in New Design

Trim lines with snap and dash are evidenced in the new Overland being exhibited by the Brinkman Overland company.

The new Overland represents the concentrated efforts of one of the largest automobile manufacturing organizations in the world. It is powered by a sturdy, high-speed motor, of simple design and efficiency that turns 27 horsepower on brake test, delivering more than the usual number of miles from a gallon of gasoline or a pint of oil.

Major, clutch and transmission are a unit completely enclosed and thus protected from mud and dirt. The transmission is of the selective, sliding gear type—three speeds forward and reverse. The clutch is of the disc type, easy to operate and remarkably efficient. The clutch runs in a bath of oil.

It is equipped with the automatic system of ignition with starter, containing that open with the doors, dynamometer, speedometer, dash light, black Duracel upholstery, rubber floor mat and steering, ventilating and rain-proof windshield. The coupe body is said to be easily to be expected except on a high-priced car.

The trim lines of the new Overland denote grace and beauty. The radiator has been raised 1 1/2 inches and is assembled with the shell in one unit. The cowl and hood have been raised a like height.

The front splasher and front end of the fenders have been slightly redesigned to eliminate rumbles. Anti-squeaks have been added to the running board splashers, body and frame.

The body is wider and bigger. There is ample room, even for a stout person to enter the front door on the steering wheel side. The top and windshield have been lowered 2 1/2 inches. Gipsy curtains, integral with the top itself, fasten from the inside and open with all four doors.

Front and rear seats have been lowered 1 1/2 inches at the front and 2 inches in the rear, giving more comfortable seating pitch.

Barrel head lamps lend beauty to the general attractiveness of the exterior design. The finish is baked on the body, an operation that is used only on higher priced cars. This lustrous finish is the result of careful study of Overland engineers, and is baked on, coat upon coat, at temperatures impossible for a part wood body to stand.

The upholstery of the touring car is completely removable. Backs and sides can be detached from the steel body.

GOOD MODELS

Motorists attending auto shows in Milwaukee and Chicago last season noted many demonstration models of the cut-down type. Models of that sort give the interested spectator a working idea of just how the various mechanical features function.

Paris has progressed a step farther, and at their recent auto show the cut-away model as shown was featured. In this instance an entire automobile was cut in half and not a thing was left to the spectator's imagination as to how that particular car was built or as to its mechanism.

KEEP THIS IN MIND

Fine sandpaper, not emery cloth, should be used to clean the generator commutator. Hold a little piece of sandpaper against the revolving commutator with a small stick with a flat end until its surface becomes bright. Emery cloth or paper should never be used as the filings will do injury to the generator.

UNNECESSARY TROUBLE

Motorists cause themselves a lot of unnecessary trouble by not looking to see whether the street cars can clear the machine when parking it on a very narrow street.

MORE "TRUTH" ON DEADLY CAR

But Evidently Diseases Were Very Scarce

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 3.—The automobile in California caused in the last year almost twice as many deaths as nine of the most serious diseases combined, with diphtheria, which the state health authorities declared is one of the most deadly diseases with which California has to contend, claimed the lives in the last year of only one-half as many persons as were due to automobile accidents in the state.

(The above is just another misleading statement to make out that automobiles are more deadly than "unloaded" guns. In that same state of California, there are so many automobiles that every soul of the population could go riding on the beautiful Sunday afternoon and none would need to ride on a truck, either. If California had enough diphtheria to go around, as it has automobiles, what would the mortality be?)

Arm Signal Not Best At Night

The driver who sticks out his hand on a dark night expecting his signal to be recognized is at fault, according to Philip Inman, who says: "When a motorist wants to signal a turn, stop or back up he holds out his arm. This works fairly well in the day but on a dark or rainy night, when the driver wears a dark coat and gloves—how in the devil does he expect motorists behind to see his signal?"

The spotlight with its red signal, discernible for several yards on the poorest night, is the thing. Few cars are so equipped. It is their mistake and often the misfortune of others to be blind then.

"I have driven many years yet have never held my arm out as a warning. When coming to a stop, I do so gradually. If I make a right turn, I draw close to the right before attempting the turn, turn my head enough to see how close the approaching machine is, and then make my turn."

"When I am at the curb and wish to turn into traffic, I do not hold out my arm and give 'er the gas. I look behind and, if the cars are coming they pass before I proceed."

"Once I wondered about railroad crossing accidents. I don't now. I save a party of five in a big sedan drive from Grand avenue to Wall street, through an alley. They crossed the intersecting alley in heavy traffic lanes at 25 miles an hour. Drivers of that type have no regard for human life, either their own or others. Noting incidents of this type gives me the belief that the majority of highway crossing accidents are the fault of the automobile drivers."

CARS OF YESTERYEAR

Reference to a 1911 list of motor cars reveals a number of interesting makes which are gone but perhaps not forgotten. Alco was one. Alpbena another. Bergdoll, Brush and Black Crow among others.

Then there were Chadwick, Corbin Croxton-Kerton, Dragoon, E. M. F., Everitt and Empire, Firestone-Columbus, Flanders, Glide and Acme may or may not bring back pleasant memories, but they suggest the speculation as to how many of the names which are known everywhere today will be history in another 10 years.

There was once a time when proud people rode in their E. M. F.'s and felt that the initials carved them class. Today the vaudeville comedian explains that E. M. F. means "Every Minute Fixin'." So be it.

NEW CONCRETE DRIVE

South Park commissioners, Chicago, have awarded a contract for a concrete drive in Grant Park to August Skoglund. This project is located near the new Field museum and the specifications call for a total thickness of eight inches of 1:2:3 concrete, fully reinforced. Chicago realizes the necessity of paving with concrete for permanence.

WOMEN CONQUER RACING FIELDS

American - Equipped Auto
Wins 100-Mile Tilt

That ancient wheeze that women can't drive motor cars may have to be laid away with some other ones in lavender and old lace.

Women are once again entering the racing field—and conquering. The dizzy speed at which the world's fastest drivers nowadays circle speed tracks to victory is not too fast for them.

Several women competed in a 100-mile race at the famous Brooklands track at London recently. One of them, Mrs. Grace Duller, won with an average of more than ninety miles an hour, faster than the winning chassis at the Indianapolis Memorial day test.

Mrs. Duller drove a Leyland eight, British car. America was instrumental in helping her win, as the car was equipped with Champion spark plugs.

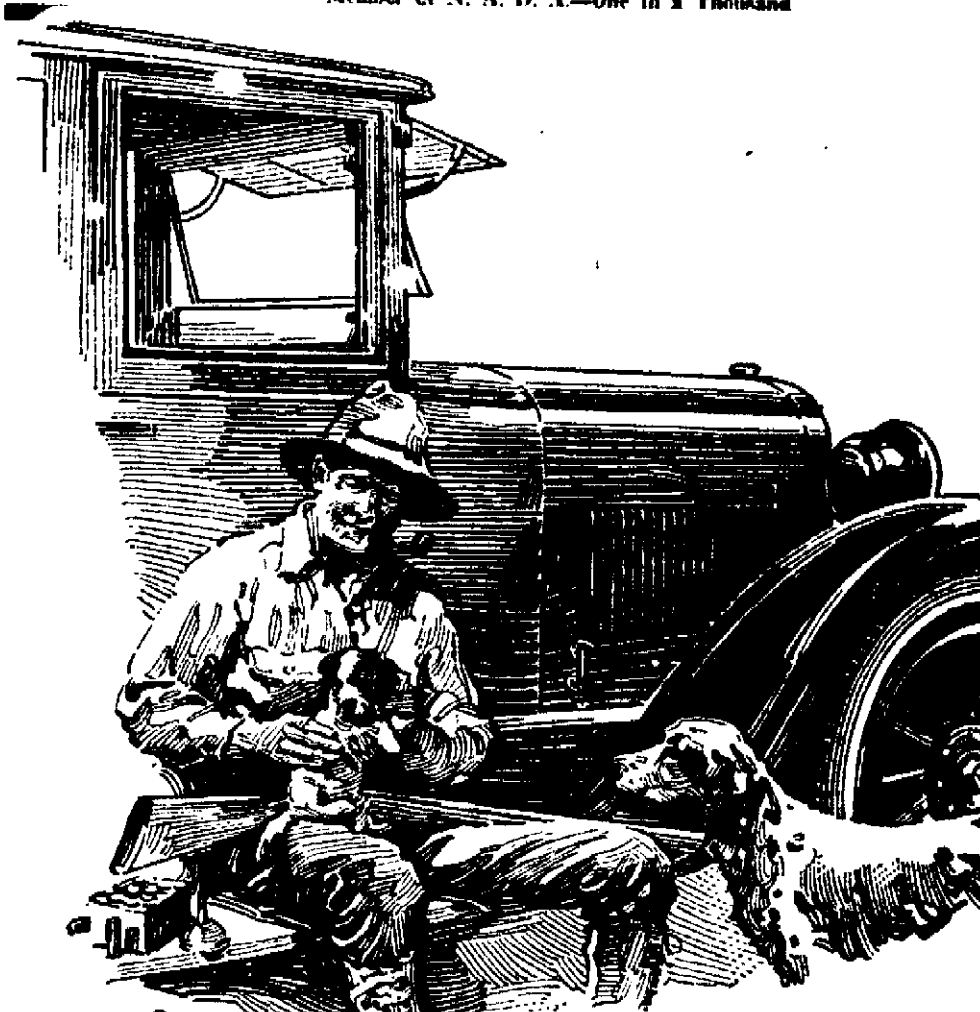

Australia has approximately 100,000 American made. The ratio of about one car to eight people, 30 per cent of which automobile owners in Australia is habitable.

POSSESSION OF MINORS SOUGHT

Woman Claims Husband Is Keeping Her From Them

Special to The News. BEAUMONT, Texas, Nov. 3.—A habeas corpus hearing in the case of Colea Chaille against Colea Chaille for the possession of two minor children has been set for November 20 before Judge E. A. McIlwain in 60th district court. In a petition filed Saturday morning, Mrs. Chaille alleged that her two children were being held by her former husband, Colea Chaille, and that she was not allowed to see them.

According to the petition an agreement was reached before divorce proceedings were started that Colea Chaille, the husband, was to have the little girl Violet, 5 years of age, and Mrs. Chaille was to have possession of the little boy, about nineteen months of age. Mrs. Chaille stated in her petition that she did not understand court proceedings and did not appear when a divorce granted her husband. Later, she declared, an officer appeared and told her he had come for the little boy, and she let him have the child.

The mother now asks custody of both children, alleging that the father is not able to care for them. She also declares that she formerly was not in position financially to care for the two children but that she can now and will ask the court to return them to her.

Wife's Aim Too True, Is Man's Divorce Plea

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 3.—When Ida Morton threw a hair brush that struck her husband in the eye, it was the "straw that broke the camel's back." He left her and sued her for divorce.

Wesley C. Morton charged in his complaint that he was too many times a target for his wife's air. Once, he said, she threw a beer bottle and hit him in the neck. "He declared the bottle broke and the jagged edges of the glass cut him so deeply that he will carry the scar to his grave."

The Morton, according to the complaint, which was filed in superior court, were married eight months before the final parting came.

WOMAN IS FREED TWICE SAME YEAR

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—For the second time within a year Mrs. Marian E. Foster was granted annulment of a marriage.

When she was in court in December she was granted annulment of a marriage with Richard Condry. She said he had threatened to kill her if she did not marry him.

She told Judge Morgan that her second husband, whom she married April 10, 1933, was Bert Foster, former owner of a drug store at Hayes and Gough streets. She said she had known him only a week before marrying, and that soon after the ceremony she learned that he was a drug addict.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94 PER CENT AIR

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent air and 6 per cent common kerosene (coal oil.)

The inventor, J. T. Johnson, 800 W. Lake St., Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 10 days FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $200 to $300 per month. —Adv.

Rum Runners Active On U. S. Border

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 3.—Niagara frontier rum runners are today more active than at any time since prohibition began and the federal authorities seem unable to cope with the situation.

According to Collector of Customs Fred Bradley, three groups of rum smugglers are now operating between Canada and American points on the Niagara River, Lake Ontario and Lake Erie. A fourth group, that claims it will make daily shipments to Buffalo via Grand Island in Niagara River, is soon to start business, it was stated.

The collector has asked for two speedy motorboats for use in running down the smugglers. The rum ships are painted a navy gray and cannot easily be discerned at night.

One line operates from Port Colborne, Ont., on Lake Erie, to Buffalo. Another runs from Belleville, Ont., on Lake Ontario, to Olean, N. Y. The third runs from Port Stanley or Port Dover, Ont., to points near Buffalo on Lake Erie and Niagara River.

The new smuggling ring that promises to start operations soon comes from Windsor, Ont., where it is now smuggling liquor to Detroit. It also operates fast boats to Erie, Pa., and Cleveland, Ohio.

Customs inspectors have watched many nights recently in the hope of catching smugglers as they attempted to unload their cargoes, but of no avail. The smugglers maintain a careful watch on shore as well as on the water.

SAN ANTONIO KLAN ASKS ROBE PERMIT

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Nov. 3.—San Antonio Klan 31 sent letters to hundreds of citizens here asking them to fill in a blank form saying that they had joined the Klan in asking city and county authorities for permission to parade in full regalia. They propose a three-day carnival in this city in January.

Mayor John W. Tobin, commissioner of Police Chief Phil Wright and Sheriff Jim Stevens stated that they would not issue such a permit.

BAD WEATHER CRUMPS FAIR

Officials Hope For End of Rainy Season

Special to The News.

BEAUMONT, Texas, Nov. 3.—The dreary drizzle, which dampened not only the South Texas fair grounds but the spirits of the fair association members as well, finally ceased Saturday morning. A fair sized crowd turned out the opening day of the fair, but there were few who would leave the rain and cold Friday. It is doubtful if there were more than five hundred paid admissions Friday owing to the unusually inclement weather. The bad part of it was that although the fair association has taken out rain insurance for almost every day, officials say the insurance did not cover the first days of the fair when the attendance is low anyway and a few dollars invested in rain insurance would have brought the association several thousands of dollars.

A number of the concessions did not open Friday, but practically all were doing business Saturday. The show advertised for the stadium could not be given Friday either. One concessionaire reported that he sold one bottle of soda pop and one cushion seat Friday. However, a fair sized crowd turned out for the Saturday exhibition.

It was particularly unfortunate, officials said, that weather of the worst kind should descend on the fair at this particular time since Beaumont has enjoyed fair weather for the past few weeks with never a bit of rain. All members of the fair association are taking the matter philosophically, however, declaring that they believe they are in for some bad weather and would rather have it at the beginning, rather than at the end of the fair.

DECOY WITNESS BRINGS RE-TRIAL

False Testimony Claimed in First For Robbery

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 3.—Eddie Shoggett, convicted on bank robbery charges in Tulsa county and sentenced to fifteen years in the penitentiary, will be given a new trial because a decoy alleged to have been employed by the Oklahoma Bankers Association is said to have given false testimony according to the original court of appeals in a decision handed down here 1 to 3 Saturday.

James Saunders who is named in the court opinion is a steel pigeon, was employed by the bankers Association in 1929, according to evidence in the case, to take part in bank robbing projects and then turn state's evidence. In the holding of the Supreme Bank of Tulsa December 1929, Saunders in evidence charges Shoggett as having been the principal in the robbery. Shoggett in an appeal declared he was a victim of circumstances and was not present at the time of the robbery; an alibi Saunders was the real footer of the bank.

Court Rules Against Hiring

AUSTIN, Nov. 3.—County commissioners courts are not authorized to employ anyone to collect delinquent tax under the provisions of the Houston delinquent tax law or any other law, the attorney general's department has ruled in answer to a request for an interpretation from the county commissioners court of Wichita county. County commissioners there employed a man to collect delinquent taxes due since 1888, on a commission basis. The attorney general's ruling declared there was no law in this state which allows such procedure.

The state legal department also held that certain parts of the Houston act are unconstitutional but this question was not gone into in the reply to the Wichita commissioners.

2 BEAUMONT WOMEN HURT IN AUTO WRECK

BEAUMONT, Texas, Nov. 3.—Miss Camilla Thompson and Mrs. W. D. Martin were injured in an automobile wreck, Saturday morning, on the Beaumont-Port Arthur road. The party, en route to the football game in Port Arthur, was traveling in a Ford touring car which was struck by a Ford turning in from a side road near Nederland. None of the other members of the party were injured, however. The automobile in which Miss Thompson was riding was driven by Garland Jackson and turned completely over.

BIG GAME HUNTERS GO OUT AFTER BEAR

Armed with trusty rifles, pump guns with buck shot to match, a party of Port Arthur hunters left Saturday night for the Big Thicket country to hunt "big game," one of the members of the party said before leaving. Wild cats, deer, even bears, abound in the country to which the Port Arthur hunters are bound, it is said, and through arrangements with the owner of a very fine pack of dogs and bear hounds, the hunters plan to return to Port Arthur with tales and trophies galore, they said.

U. S. TO TAKE HAND IN DILLINGS AFFAIRS

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 3.—Federal authorities will take a hand in the affairs of the R. L. Dillings company $200,000,000 fiscal brokerage concern, Benson Hough, United States district attorney, announced today. The federal grand jury meeting here shortly will be asked to look into the organizational affairs, with a view to indicating its principal authorities, Hough said. Previous probes have resulted in indictments but they have been confined to the counties affected.

SNAKES EAT GOLF BALLS IN VIRGINIA

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va., Nov. 3.—Japanese golfers have nothing on the golfers of Virginia Beach when it comes to consuming unexpected "banquets." Commenting on a peculiar report from Japan that crows are eating golf balls on the link at Kake, J. R. Carroll, professional instructor at the Princess Anne Country Club, declared that black snakes, who under their home in the swampy woods across the fairway on No. 4, have been known to swallow balls with evident enjoyment. "I don't know," said Carroll, "but crows started here two years ago, sometimes dropping down a ball and then a crow's nest (bird) would come and the bird had to go back."

It Isn't Worth a Cent

Ten million marks in Germany today! Yet it isn't worth one lone cent of Uncle Sam's currency. In Germany, however, it buys a loaf of bread, five cigarettes or a box of matches. With the fall of the mark, the government is even cutting down the size of the paper it's printed on.

ANCIENT CUSTOMS OF EGYPT STILL REMAIN

LONDON, Nov. 3.—All of ancient Egypt is not to be found in the graves of past generations. Ceremonies of birth to burial in Egypt of today are neither Moslem, Christian, Roman nor Greek, but ancient Egyptian. Dates are served in baskets that might have come out of the British Museum. Cobras are too expensive for the Cairo Zoological Gardens, because they are sacred and in great demand. Natives still destroy the belongings of those who have just died. The past is overlapping the present.

POLICE WATCH FOR FUGITIVE BANDIT

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 3.—Local police are keeping close watch on the city's underworld today with receipt of information that Arthur Kenech, most notorious of the "snake eater" bandit gang, had made a sensational escape from the state penitentiary at Jefferson City. By use of a pulley the prisoner escaped 100 feet from atop the shirt factory at the prison to the wall where he dropped outside to freedom. Guards who saw the daring feat said they did not shoot for fear of hitting a guard in the tower. Kenech's escape now makes two of the gang who are at large.

SAN SABA DEPOSITS SHOW GOOD GROWTH

SAN SABA, Texas, Nov. 3.—Deposits in San Saba banks show an increase over 1922 of $152,991, and loans show a decrease of $58,518, according to statements made by the financial institutions here. This increase in deposits and decrease in money loaned out reveal the prosperous condition of this section. Statements show that on Oct. 10, 1922, deposits in banks here totaled $242,221 as against $706,842 on the corresponding date this year. Outstanding loans on the same date in 1922 aggregated $741,702 as against $676,181 this year.

BOOTLEGGERS BOASTS OF BOER ANCESTRY

DOYLESTOWN, Pa., Nov. 3.—Paul Kruger, proprietor of the Railroad House, who claims to be a descendant of "Om Paul" Kruger of South Africa, was sentenced by Judge William C. OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 3.—The legality of the special election held on October 2 probably will be passed upon by the senate. K C S INDUSTRIAL TRACK IS PUSHED

Heavier Ballast to Be Laid Later, Report

Building on both ends of their three-mile connecting track between the Texas Company, Port Neches plant on the north end and the Atlantic Refining company's plant on the south, the Kansas City Southern railroad is rushing the new stretch of industrial track to completion, according to reports from Port Neches received here Saturday.

The new track parallels the Port Neches road through the Groves addition for almost a quarter of a mile after crossing the highway where it leaves the Texas Company's property. Continuing on through the north-east corner of the Groves addition, the track crosses the Country club road near the new road turning off to the Atlantic company's plant, and parallels this road until it meets the other end of the track stretching northward from Atreco, the name of the Atlantic's terminals.

When the new track is completed, the K. C. S. will have a complete loop from Griffith station, on the main line, south to the canal bank along the canal to the Neches river, thence back past the Atlantic company's terminals and into Port Neches through the Texas Company's plant, it is said. At the present time the railway company is merely laying the ties and rails on a light ballast constructed sometime ago on their right of way, purchased in 1915, and later will put in heavier ballast for the track, according to reports.

W. B. A. BEGINS MEMBER DRIVE

Increases From 25 in 1907 to Over 200 in 1933

From a charter membership of 25 in 1907, of whom eight are still enrolled, to over 200 members in 1933, the Port Arthur Branch of the W. B. A. of the Macabees is now engaged in a membership enrollment campaign to still further increase their lists, officials said Saturday.

Mrs. F. A. Dyer, Mrs. W. F. Sylvester, Mrs. T. B. Kerr, and Mrs. C. H. Gunthorpe, Jr., appointed assistant deputies by the district deputies have charge of the membership campaign.

"The W. B. A. boasts of having the largest membership of any other organization in Texas, the records showing a membership of 13,934 in the state on June 1," Mrs. Dyer said. Among the activities of the organization are hospital service, fraternal and relief work and patriotic service, and junior protection fund," she said.

One of the outstanding features of the W. B. A. pointed out by Mrs. Dyer is the $18,000,000 reserve fund, $17,000,000 of which are invested in bonds, giving the organization a monthly income of $137,294. The rating of the W. B. A. in 1931 and rates placed by the national fraternal congress table, which provides an accurate and adequate rates, that will never be raised, marked the first time a fraternal organization was ever rated, Mrs. Dyer said.

BELIEVE TRIO HID IN DESERT

Poses Join Forces in Effort to Take Train Robbers

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 3.—Two possees were in the field in Kern and Inyo counties tonight following reports that members of the supposed bandit gang that robbed the Southern Pacific train in Northern California several weeks ago had taken refuge in the desert country east of Bishop.

The three men, said to be brothers of the name of De Antromoni, who are being sought, were pursued from Kern county into Inyo county by a sheriff's posse led by the sheriff of Kern county.

The sheriff of Inyo county hastily organized a posse and attempted to intercept the men but they had made good their escape. Kern and Inyo possees then joined forces and are searching in the neighborhood of Deer Springs valley for the trio.

Last trace of the men was obtained when they stayed at a ranch house for the night.

Nevada authorities are watching all roads and trails leading into the state.

aid. No other definite reports from the organizations and groups given quotes had been received by the budget campaign director Saturday.

"One of the most encouraging indications I have noted in going before organizations in Port Arthur is that without an exception they are not of the place of the Red Cross chapter in the community," Rev. Frampton said. "In ever increasing numbers they are including a generous portion of their activities and donations to cover work and funds for the Red Cross chapter in the city. In other words, organizations, groups and individuals are placing support of the Red Cross chapter and its service in the lists of civic improvement and development when they outline programs."

"While the work of a 'tag up' the various groups in the city necessarily has to be done when opportunity presents, or as the organizations meet, we are planning to wind up the budget campaign November 11. At all events it will have to be concluded by Thanksgiving, to conform to the plans of the national organization," Rev. Frampton said.

As returns from the workers in the city come in, the results of their efforts will be announced so that the community can see the progress of the campaign, according to the director. Business houses will be asked to secure enrollment of all employees in the Red Cross chapter, and not only these individual memberships, but larger contributions, toward the budget also will be sought, he said.

Admits Giving Husband Poison

Mrs. Schauder Unable to Save Her Lover

By United Press

ELKHORN, Wis., Nov. 3.—Appearing in public for the first time since she startled friends and relatives with a confession of having poisoned her husband and attempting to take the lives of her four small children, Mrs. Myrtle Schauder, White-water, Wis., "poison widow" gave even more sensational testimony in court here today.

Under oath she took the stand as a witness in the preliminary examination of Ernest Kufahl, her soldier lover who, she charges, mixed the poison which caused her husband's death.

Kufahl is charged with being an accessory to the murder of Schauder. Under resolute examination of the widow, it was revealed for the first time that it is the intention of the state to charge the woman as a principal in connection with the death of her husband.

"You understand," District Attorney Geoffrey said, "that you are tried for the murder of your husband?"

"Yes," was the response, "that is my understanding."

As she was led to the courtroom, Mrs. Schauder was supported by two women.

Under direct examination of Attorney W. A. Zabel, Mrs. Schauder told of affections for the former soldier who was a boarder in her home at the time of the death of her husband. Her first intimation of a breakdown came when she was questioned regarding her attempt to poison her four children. She hesitated for a long time before replying; then gaining her composure, she admitted her attempt to poison them. She said this was done after she had placed flowers on the grave of their father.

When asked why she had told so

IF HE HAD GOT OUT HE'D BEEN ARRESTED

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 3.—E. A. Wilmer was arrested and brought in to court here today on a charge of making his automobile for more than two hours in a parking zone.

"Judge, I had to stay there," Wilmer explained. "My trousers were torn and I just couldn't get out in the crowd."

The case was dismissed.
